Voice to Vision

The Voice to Vision project helps Holocaust and Genocide survivors share their experiences through art.

Talk to the Director of Voice to Vision, David Feinberg, along with an artist and survivor. Watch video of the process used to develop the art and view 12 of the finished pieces, on display at History Theatre throughout the run of Hiding in the Open.

Family Day

Sunday, March 14, 2010

12:00 pm - 1:30 pm

Join History Theatre, the Center for Holocaust & Genocide Studies, and Mark Lagergren to explore aspects of the Holocaust.

Share Your Story

Write your memoir and draw a picture of yourself that represents what is most important to you.

Make a butterfly based on the poem The Butterfly. Butterflies will be displayed at the History Theatre throughout the run of Hiding in the Open, and then sent to the Houston Holocaust Museum to help represent the 1.5 million Jewish children who perished in the Holocaust.

The Center for Holocaust and Genocide Studies is a resource for information and teaching about the Holocaust and contemporary aspects of genocide.

Nazi Propaganda

Mark Lagergren, 2005 United States Holocaust Fellow, will present an interactive exhibition on how the Nazis used imagery on posters as an effective propaganda tool to plant suggestions in people's minds and influence public opinion.

Children of the Holocaust

Read the stories of twelve Jewish children who lived during the Holocaust.
